I just got back from spending four days in Circle. There is a work group here from Pennsylvania that was doing repair work on the chapel at there. The chapel was damaged in the flood two years ago, so we were able to repair the outside last summer. Now this year we were able to get the inside repaired most of the way. The building can now we used as a chapel again as well as housing out transmitter upstairs. We did have a service Wednesday in the chapel, rededicating the building to God and for His use. The same group is at the station grounds for a few more days cutting some trees, grounds cleanup, and small projects here.

This is our second work group. The first one was able to replace the floor in the chapel at North Pole. We are now working on the chapel at Circle. The next group will be working on a cabin roof at North Pole. These are projects That Sheenan and I can not get done with just the two of us, but still important to the ministry.

Regarding our trip to Minnesota, it went well. Joy and Kimberly had their checkup at the heart hospital. There are some minor things for them to do this summer but everything is looking good. We also were able to visit with Joy's sisters and Redgy's family. Most trips we are trying to visit at least one church. Not sure when or where the next one will be. It is not good for Joy and I to make extended trips away from North Pole, so this helps us to maintain contact with people.

Regarding extended trips, Redgy does have hip surgery scheduled for next February. We are working on the logistics of lodging, travel, and finances. Being able to do some things remotely will help, bur we are also working on getting other people at the KJNP to be ready for this as well. We will have communications, but will be gone for an extended time. February is a good time for this as we will should not have any projects going on with work crews, year end stuff will be done, and not into spring things happening yet. Redgy also has to lose a large amount of weight before the surgery date.

God Bless You

Redgy and Joy

For behold, the winter is past;
the rain is over and gone.
The flowers appear on the earth,
the time of singing has come,
and the voice of the turtledove
is heard in our land. Song of Solomon 2:11-12 ESV

Let us know; let us press on to know the LORD;
his going out is sure as the dawn;
he will come to us as the showers,
as the spring rains that water the earth." Hosea 6:3 ESV
